China Yuchai International Limited Announces Updated Sales Performance

Singapore, Singapore — December 4, 2007 — China Yuchai International Limited (NYSE: CYD; “China Yuchai” or the “Company”), the leading manufacturer and distributor of diesel engines in China, announced today it has sold 315,000 diesel engines from January to October in 2007, representing a 33.8 percent increase over the same period of 2006. Total unit sales in the ten months ended October 31, 2007 exceeded the Company’s expectations. In 2006, Yuchai sold approximately 284,000 diesel engines.

After major urban transportation contract wins with Beijing and Shanghai bus network, China Yuchai’s National 3 Model continues to penetrate the Chinese bus OEM market and posted a strong 172% year-on-year unit sales growth in the first ten months of 2007.

China’s automotive industry continues to experience robust growth in 2007 as it has become the second largest in the world with a relatively smaller percentage of auto ownership (2%) compared with Europe and North America, and a fast-growing infrastructure build-out. According to the China Association of Automobile Manufacturers, in the first nine months of 2007, China produced a total of 1.1 million trucks, 175,990 buses, 354,236 truck chassis, and 136,477 semi-trailers reflecting a solid 21%, 19%, 37% and 121% year-over-year growth, respectively. The trend of using diesel engines has expanded to more than 80% of the engines in new commercial vehicles produced in China. Within the Chinese diesel-powered truck market, the 2007 first nine months production was 70,347 heavy trucks, 97,505 medium trucks, 681,917 light trucks, 47,213 mini trucks, and 326,892 truck chassis, reflecting 82%, 4%, 22%, 19% and 38% year-over-year growth, respectively. For the bus market, the production for the first nine months was 21,058 large buses, 23,747 medium buses, and 53,908 small buses, reflecting 48%, 34% and 14% year-over-year growth, respectively. As a result of the rapid down-stream market growth, according to China Association of Automobile Manufacturers, diesel engine producers in China enjoyed an average of 30% year-over-year growth in the first nine months of 2007.
